

Intermediate QIS Training (Quality Indicator Survey)

"QIS Basics" is a prerequisite. Basic training offered March 28, July 25 and November 28, 2012 (separate registration required.)

QIS - Intermediate builds on the foundation established in the basic QIS training. Providers will learn how to implement the QIS as a core component of a facility's Quality Assessment and Assurance program and continuous quality improvement opportunities inherent in the process. Quality of Care and Life Indicators (QCLI's) utilized in the QIS Stage I are explored, analyzed and applied to practice. QIS Stage II in-depth investigative tools are used as hands-on learning experience to guide provider exploration of regulatory compliance.

Participants completing this program will be able to:

1. Utilize the QIS as a core component of a nursing facility's quality assurance program,
2. Utilize the QIS as a component of a nursing facility's continuous quality improvement program,
3. Apply the Quality of Care and Life Indicators (QCLI) in facility practice, and
4. Explore the QIS Stage II investigative tools as a guide for provider regulatory compliance.

Speaker:

Cindy Mason is the Vice President of Provider Services for Providigm, LLC. She is an important member of Dr. Andrew Kramer's QIS team of experts. Cindy has more than 24 years experience in advising nursing home administrators and staff. Licensed as a clinical social worker, nursing home administrator, and health care risk manager, she translates complex regulatory requirements into concepts that can be applied to managing the daily operations of nursing home life. As a long term care consultant, staff educator, and national speaker, Cindy has worked with all levels of nursing home staff on regulatory compliance and skill development.
